

The Conference

The conference “Jeremiah’s Scriptures: Production, Reception, Interaction, and Transformation” aspires to engage current scholarship that has advanced source redaction and literary criticism of Jeremiah and related Baruch and Jeremianic traditions in both the Hebrew Bible and ancient Jewish and Christian Literature. There are vital traditions about Jeremiah within as well as outside of the book that bears his name. Accordingly, the conference will take into account the history of recension and the growth of tradition – biblical and para-biblical – as aspects of the expansion of earlier sources within and beyond the book of Jeremiah. Thus, our conference and volume of proceedings include but also move beyond a discussion of the literary growth of the book of Jeremiah. Taken together, the texts that play a role in the development of traditions connected to the figures of Jeremiah and Baruch constitute what we call “Jeremiah’s Scriptures.”

The invited speakers include scholars of biblical studies, ancient Judaism, and Dead Sea Scrolls from the U.S., Canada, Israel, Switzerland, Germany, France, the U.K., the Netherlands, Norway, and Austria.

This conference is co-sponsored by the Graduate Campus of the University of Zurich, the Centro Stefano Franscini (CSF), Ascona, the Federal Institute of Technology (ETH), Zurich, the Thyssen Foundation and the Swiss National Science Foundation (SNF).
